

VISITORS NOT IN THE GAME

Italian A. B. Piled up 17 Nice Juicy Scores

BURLINGTON CLERKS, ONE

The Leaders of the Queen City Team Were Thoroughly Outclassed in Game on Rangers' Field Yesterday.

That clerks base ball team, the one that heads the list in the Queen City league, came over from Burlington yesterday and had a game on the Rangers field against the Italian athletic club team of this city. The Burlington boys apparently didn't bring their real playing form with them and when the score figured up at the end of the game the tally proved to be 17 to one in favor of the Italians, and just how Burlington got that one was not quite clear.

Smith first officiated in the box for the Burlington team but his work was rather unimpressive and the way that the Italians hammered the sphere must have been disheartening. He retired in the fifth inning in favor of Manson with some improvement but still the Barre team binged the ball almost at their pleasure.

The Burlington bunch, however, did not register any kick but took the dose like little men and did not even lay it to the day being Friday, neither did they mention that of the month it was the 23rd day.

Both the regular Italian pitchers were out of town and Henson of the Montpelier club was substituted with excellent success as the visitors were unable to connect with his delivery, totalling only seven singles during the exhibition. Hughes the second baseman of the clerks aggregation made the rather unusual record of seven put outs.

Ingredients give to Hood's Sarsaparilla its great curative power—power to cure many and varied complaints, including diseases of the blood, ailments of the stomach, troubles of the kidneys and liver.

Many of the ingredients are just what the profession prescribes in the ailments named, but the combination and proportions are peculiar to this medicine and give it curative power peculiar to itself. Therefore, there can be no substitute for Hood's. Get it in the usual liquid form, or in tablets called Sarsaparils.

TAFT MASTER OF TARIFF BILL

He Will Gain Enough to Make the Bill Acceptable

REPORT TO BE IN MONDAY

Aldrich Plans to Have the House Pass Upon the Measure First.—Rule There Can Cut De. late.

Washington, July 24.—In the midst of storms of dust, kicked up about the Capitol and the White House yesterday signs were visible that the tariff problem is moving steadily in the direction of a solution. This was the opinion expressed by numerous senators and representatives. The indications continue to be that President Taft will win an approximation of his programme on raw materials, but that outside of these there will be scant concession to the downward revision sentiment. It is likely that oil and iron ore will be put on the free list. The best informed members of congress say the chances are in favor of free bides, but that there is still some possibility of a compromise duty of 7 1/2 per cent. Coal will probably be put at 40 with no reciprocal arrangement, and lumber at $1.35 with the Senate differential.

Whatever hope the President has of getting reductions in duties beyond raw materials rests with Mr. Payne. From the other conference he has nothing to hope. Mr. Payne lacks strength of numbers in conference, but he has the control of the House situation. If he is willing to go to the House and say he is unwilling to stand for the conference report, and that in taking this stand he has the backing of the President, he can override any opposition. One member of the ways and means committee who went to see Payne yesterday to urge him to stand for downward revision came away with the statement that Payne needed no urging, and was full of fight.

Mr. Payne is naturally not much of a downward revisionist, but he does have a pride in his bill and he looks askance on any increases made by the Senate over the measure that bears his name.

When the Senate finished its morning business, Senator Kean asked adjournment until Monday. Instead of Tuesday, as usual. Asked why by Senator Culberson, he said he thought the conference report would be ready by Monday. This is the first official indication that the conference are nearing the completion of a report. The Senate adjourned accordingly until Monday.

SEVERAL DECISIONS GIVEN.

Divorces Granted in Windsor County Court—The Whitney Case.

Woodstock, July 24.—In the Windsor county court, in the case of William E. Johnson vs. C. C. Paine, in the matter of collecting counsel fees for defending the Union Agricultural society of Tunbridge in a suit for damages, decision was reserved. Decision was also reserved in the case of J. H. Harvey vs. Justin E. Smith, not for services in advising as to settling his father's estate. The cases of J. H. Hewitt and James Hewitt vs. Harvey Smith, general assumpsit, were settled.

The case of Grace E. McCullum vs. Samuel G. McCullum, of Barnard, a petition for the support and custody of a child had been partially tried and the husband, swearing he is willing to forgive his wife and take her back after her locking him out of the house seven months ago, and, as he alleged being in other men's company more than he liked, the court is awaiting their reconciliation.

Edith M. Hufnall was granted a divorce from Daniel M. Hufnall, of Fitchburg, for adultery. George W. Clark, of Woodstock, granted a divorce from Minnie C. Clark for adultery.

The case now on trial is the contested divorce case of Jennie A. Whitney vs. Elmer G. Whitney, of South Royalton. Mrs. Whitney alleges that her husband has kissed the hired girl, has time and again called her a fool, has several times struck her, has abused his horses, has threatened to shoot the whole family with a shot gun. The most of this the respondent denies and thinks that his wife has been unfaithful to him, and that her mother, who has been with them a good deal, has made trouble between them. A letter found by the wife also figures in the case; also an extra box in the post office which the wife found out about and from which she got a letter which was unsigned. Doctor Kenne, of Sharon, says Mrs. Whitney has had a form of brain trouble and that Whitney has a violent temper when wrought up.

HELD SUTTON TO AD ADAMS

This the Impression Gained By Chauffeur Who

SAW OPENING OF FIGHT

Says Adams Was Aggressor.—Determined to Assault the Victim of Annapolis Tragedy, Witness Says.

Annapolis, Md., July 24.—The fifth day of the inquiry into the cause of the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton of the United States marine corps opened with Sargent of Marines James de Hart, whose cross-examination was continued yesterday, on the witness stand.

The government so far has called six witnesses and 10 or 12 others remain to be examined.

The substance of the testimony of all the young officers of marines, who were with Sutton on the night he met his death in October, 1907, and who have so far testified, has been to the effect that Sutton shot himself, following the fight on the parade ground near the marine barracks.

It is said that the Suttons will call an eye witness to the shooting, who would throw an entirely different light on the affair. Counsel would not disclose the name of the witness, but it was thought it might be Private Charles Kennedy of the marine corps, now stationed at Norfolk, Va. Kennedy has been subpoenaed at the request of the Suttons. Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker, the sister, is not expected to testify before next week. She probably will tell in detail the interview she had with Lieutenant Adams shortly after her brother's death, which Adams practically denied in his testimony.

William I. Owens, the chauffeur, who drove Lieutenant Sutton and his brother officers out to the camp on the night of the shooting, was called to the witness stand.

Owens told of taking Sutton, Lieutenant Adams and two other officers in his automobile from Carvel hall toward the camp.

This was about one o'clock. Sutton and his two companions talked and seemed to be friendly on the way out. Adams did not have anything to say. They went through the Naval Academy grounds and nothing happened until they got across the cemetery bridge on the "dum" when someone told him to stop.

Lieutenant Adams jumped from his seat and threw off his collar and coat and made a rush at Lieutenant Sutton, as the latter got out of the car. The witness heard no argument which might suggest trouble before that. The other two officers seized Sutton and the witness heard Sutton say: "Go away Adams, I don't want any trouble." Then some one told him to "beat it." He turned his car around and lingered. "Why didn't you go then?" asked Major Leonard.

"I wanted to stay and see the fight if there was to be one," said the witness. Owens said he saw Adams make another rush at Sutton and heard Sutton say: "If he wants fight, I will fight him."

Then one of the officers called, "Or derly" Owens was sure they didn't say "sentry" or "patrol" and he started back with his car. He told the sentry on the bridge about the trouble and the sentry said: "If they give Sutton a fair fight he will whip them all." He did not hear of the shooting until next morning, the witness said. He did not think any of the officers had been drinking or that his car made enough noise to drown the lowest voice.

Questioned by Mr. Birney, Lieutenant Adams' counsel, Owens said he did not think the two officers were holding Sutton to restrain him from attacking Adams, but it was his impression that they were trying to make it easier for Adams.

On cross-examination, Owens told of taking Lieutenant Sutton, another young man and a young lady (Miss Stewart) from Carvel hall to the Maryland hotel at 7.30 that evening. The young man got out and Lieutenant Sutton and the young lady returned to Carvel hall in his car.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS.

Annual Convention of State Body in Burlington, August 3-5.

The annual convention of the Vermont Funeral Directors association will be held in Masonic Temple, Burlington, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 3-5. On Wednesday the state board will conduct examinations. Headquarters of the association will be established at the Sherwood house and a feature of the meeting will be a banquet one evening. Lectures and demonstrations will be given by Professor Renaud at the Medical college and an address will be made by Dr. H. D. Houlton, secretary of the state board of health. A ball game between a team of undertakers and one composed of traveling men will be played at Athletic Park Wednesday afternoon.

C. H. Hayden of Underhill is president of the association and John E. Kelley is chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

VICE CRUSADE IN CHICAGO

Police Heads May Fall Before Investigation

OF STATES ATTORNEY

105 Indictments Found.—Cook County Aghast as States Attorney Files Up Evidence Before Grand Jury.

Chicago, July 24.—Chicago's police department has been shaken from center to circumference, vice kings have become alarmed as never before and residents of Chinatown and the red light district have become panic stricken as the result of the way, States Attorney Wayman has piled up evidence before the grand jury, which is expected to result in indictments against high police officers and others.

One hundred and fifty indictments against gamblers, disorderly resort keepers, operators of slot machines and "blind pig" proprietors were the result of one day's work, which was not completed until near midnight, and more are expected.

Men who have seen investigations of this character come and go declare that the present investigation is the most comprehensive undertaken by a state's located on the banks of Lake Calumet and every proprietor, according to Mrs. Kuminaki, has been obliged to pay money to the police for immunity from arrest for the illegal sale of liquor.

Shryock After Daniels.

Champion Short Distance Swimmer Charles M. Daniels had better look to his laurels. A new sensation has bobbed up in aquatic circles in the person of J. K. Shryock, the intercollegiate 220 yard champion of the University of Pennsylvania, who recently covered 100 yards in the remarkable time of 51 4/5 seconds, lowering Daniels' mark for the distance by 3 2/5 seconds. Shryock has hurled a challenge at Daniels and is now awaiting an acceptance of the duel by the "human picket."

J. K. SHRYOCK.

Great Baseball Players Minus Digits.

Having only three fingers made Mordecai Brown, Chicago Nationals, one of the greatest pitchers in the National league, and maybe the loss of a digit has something to do with the way Bristol Lord of the Cleveland Americans can handle a ball.

Some More Outings

There are not a large number of those 2-piece Outing Suits left but the bargains are just as good today as when first placed on the block. Just think of getting clothes of this sort for half-price. It's the biggest kind of a suit bargain—and they are all seasonable goods. You want an Outing Suit for August hot weather. Come in this afternoon or evening and we'll fit you for $3.75 to $8.25, worth double.

MOORE & OWENS

122 No. Main Street, Barre, Vt.

Lord and Birmingham of the Naps are two of the greatest throwing outfielders in the league. Either man can sting the ball to the plate so much faster than the other men in the league.

Lord has only three fingers on his right hand, the little one having been amputated. If he can tip the catcher over with a three fingered throw he might be able to boost them over the grand stand with a complete hand.

Huesman, who is playing left field for New Orleans and who used to be with Washington, has only two fingers on his left hand.

Cook Elected Cornell Track Captain.

Edward T. Cook was elected captain of the Cornell track team recently. Cook was a member of the American Olympic team last summer and cleared the bar in the pole vault at 12 feet 2 inches.
